

United 4WD Associations 4WD Awareness training class – Evington, VA

As a lifetime member of the UFWDA, I fully support the United 4WD Association's effort to offer 4WD driver training to interested Clubs and organizations.

Recently, I had the opportunity to meet and work with some great folks from the Lost Jeeps and Southside Jeeps Clubs near Lynchburg, Virginia.

Thanks to Steve Hendrick and Laura Stone for providing a great shop and training area on their property. They run Leesville Road Auto Services in Evington, VA and own some very cool and rare Jeeps.

We had 27 students in attendance, ranging from teenagers to those folks who can barely remember their youth. ;-)

After a very interactive PowerPoint slide show, we put a Jeep up on a lift to discuss where things are located.

Then we went outside to learn about the safe use of the Hi-Lift Jack, winches, and proper spotting techniques, All students had the opportunity for hands-on practice.

It was a great day and I got to meet some very nice people. That's why I still enjoy what I do...
